Code of Alabama § 26-14-3 (1975) provides for the mandatory and permissive reporting of child abuse/neglect to the "constituted authority," primarily the Department of Human Resources (DHR) and law enforcement, when any person suspects children are being abused or neglected. The Child Abuse Mandated Reporters Training explains:

- Why it is important to report child abuse and neglect
- Who is required to report it
- How to recognize it
- How and when to report it
- What happens after a report is made

What is your liability?

All persons reporting suspected child abuse or neglect (whether required by law or not) are presumed to be acting in good faith. Alabama law provides immunity from liability for actions by mandatory reporters.

Citation: Ala. Code § 26-14-9

It is not necessary to prove that the abuse or neglect happened. You must have a reasonable suspicion.
Is your job protected?

“A public or private employer who discharges, suspends, disciplines, or penalizes an employee solely for reporting suspected child abuse or neglect ... shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor”

Citation: Ala. Code § 26-14-3(g)
Penalties for Failure to Report

“Any person who shall knowingly fail to make the report required by this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a sentence of not more than 6 months’ imprisonment or a fine not more than $500.00.”

Citation: Ala. Code § 26-14-13
