

2020 Curriculum Directory

Alabama Department of Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention (ADCANP), The Children’s Trust Fund, makes every attempt to offer up-to-date information on curricula used by successfully funded ADCANP grantees. The following is not an exhaustive list, and ADCANP does not actively endorse any of the listed curricula. Our Department encourages any program that is considering the use of a specific curriculum to investigate curriculum materials, requirements, costs, and outcomes to ensure fidelity of curriculum content and appropriateness to the target population in your community.

In addition to the curricula identified in this directory, a document was published by the Department of Health and Human Services that identifies successful program/curriculum that addresses the prevention of child abuse and neglect. This document is entitled Emerging Practices in the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect and is available for free as a downloadable PDF file at:

Name	24/7 Dads
Program Type	Fatherhood
Target Audience	Fathers

Credentials	Evidence-based
Curriculum Summary	National Fatherhood Initiative's® flagship fatherhood curriculum is used by thousands of organizations across the country to train fathers to be involved, responsible, and committed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. 24/7 Dad® is an evidence-based program. 24/7 Dad® comes in two versions: A.M. and P.M. Organizations typically run the program with groups of dads for a period of 12 weeks. You may, however, customize it for a shorter time period (e.g. deliver it in 4, 6, or 8 weeks). You may also customize it to best fit your setting (e.g. deliver it to dads one-on-one in a case management or home visiting setting). Talk to our staff about the best way to customize either or both versions for your needs. 24/7 Dad™ is a unique, comprehensive set of fatherhood programs developed by a team of nationally and internationally recognized fathering and parenting experts and with input from fatherhood practitioners. It includes a basic fathering program (24/7 Dad™ A.M.) and a more in-depth program (24/7 Dad™ P.M.), each consisting of 12 two-hour sessions. Each program can be implemented in a group setting or in a one-on-one home-based setting. At the end of each program, fathers and mothers come together to discuss the developments the father has gone through and how it has affected their relationship and family life. Each program stands on its own as a complete program that includes pre and post-assessment evaluation tools. Organizations can use the assessment tools to help a father determine in which program his needs can be best met. Both the 24/7 Dad™ A.M. and 24/7 Dad™ P.M. programs focus on five characteristics that a father needs to be a great dad 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Both programs cover universal aspects of fatherhood so that men of all cultures, races, religions, and backgrounds can benefit from either program. Organizations can combine programs so that fathers complete the 24/7 Dad™ A.M. program and then transition into the 24/7 Dad™ P.M. program.
Training Information	Receive 1 or 2 days of custom program training at your location for up to 30 attendees or bring your staff together in a room or remotely for a custom webinar training. Our training institutes can be customized with your organization's focus or goals in mind!

Name	Building Strong Families
Program Type	Parent Education
Target Audience	Working families with children
Credentials	A 1995 Statewide needs assessment showed that 93 of 114 Missouri counties wanted programs to strengthen local families. In response, field and state Extension faculty formed the Building Strong Families base program team. Fifteen team members came together from all regions of Missouri, University of Missouri-Kansas City and University of Missouri-Columbia. They have backgrounds in substance abuse treatment and prevention, consumer and family economics, environmental design, human development, human environmental sciences and 4-H youth development. The team first consulted their colleagues and community partners around Missouri, and then created the research-based program, Building Strong Families: Challenges and Choices. Building Strong Families (BSF) is

	designed to help families identify their own strengths and learn skills to build on those strengths. The program uses a 13-module curriculum that can be adapted for families of different types and in different settings and situations. Team members and trained facilitators have tested the program in both rural and urban settings. Communities can customize the multi-session program by offering Family Strengths followed by two or more modules of the participants' choice.
Curriculum Summary	Building Strong Families: Challenges and Choices is based on a simple philosophy that is supported by empirical research. Program developers believe that all individuals and families have strengths that can be enhanced if they are treated as partners in their own learning process. In fact, researchers have identified a number of strengths that are found in families of all types in many different situations and settings, and adult learning theory says that adults do learn better in partnership with a facilitator. In this program, the topic of family strengths is explored within the framework of nine particular strengths identified by researchers. They can be found in any family, regardless of its makeup or circumstances. They are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Caring and Appreciation • Time Together • Encouragement • Commitment • Communication • Coping with Change • Spirituality • Community and Family Ties • Clear Roles This curriculum includes the information you need to offer workshops on thirteen different topics: Family Strengths, Communicating, Managing Stress, Child Self-Care, Food and Fitness, Working, Go For It!, Positive Discipline, Money Matters, Balancing Responsibilities, Consumer Beware, Healthy Home, and Kids and Self-Esteem. Number of Sessions The program philosophy requires that the first module, Family Strengths, begin each multi-session program. Research shows that family programs are most effective when participants come to several sessions. The program design team recommends at least seven sessions for each group of families who participate in the program. At a minimum, facilitators are strongly encouraged to teach at least three sessions per group and are required to begin with the Family Strengths module.
Training Information	Training is for anyone who offers educational programs to families. The training provides: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Curriculum and content information • Facilitation skills training and practice • Marketing and programming ideas • Networking opportunities Registration information will be posted here when exact training dates are announced. Other training options: We also offer a customized training at your location. Once certified, you can coordinate and teach the Building Strong Families program series.

Name	Darkness to Light’s Stewards of Children Training
Program Type	Parent Education and Support; Public Awareness
Target Audience	All adults, but especially those who work or volunteer with children and/or youth in any setting, including childcare, schools, churches, recreation, sports, and many other youth serving organizations, as well as parents and other adult relatives of children and youth, and any adults who care about the safety of children and youth.
Credentials	Evidence-based; Aligned with the National Head Start Standards
Curriculum Summary	Darkness to Light is a national nonprofit organization that seeks to empower adults to prevent child sexual abuse. Their programs raise awareness and educate adults how to prevent, recognize, and react responsibly to child sexual abuse. Stewards of Children Training is an evidence-informed curriculum that teaches adults the information and skills needed to prevent child sexual abuse. As a result of the 2-hour training, adults learn to identify risky situations for child sexual abuse, skills to prevent child sexual abuse, signs that it is occurring and how to react responsibly (including reporting) if child sexual abuse is suspected, disclosed or discovered. Stewards of Children Training features documentary-style film, hosted teaching of specific skills, and a workbook. The workbook cost is $10 per individual workbook and can be ordered in larger quantities at reduced rates. An Authorized Facilitator leads each training session using the training film, workbook and group discussion about key points. It has been independently evaluated and shown to be effective at increasing adult knowledge and changing child protective behaviors of adults. Stewards of Children training curriculum is centered around the 5 Steps to Protecting Our Children. Briefly summarized, these steps are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Learn the Facts – 1 in 10 children are sexually abused, in family and youth settings. • Minimize Opportunity – Eliminate or reduce one-on-one situations to decrease risk for abuse. • Talk About It – Have open conversations with children about our bodies, sex, and boundaries. • Recognize the Signs – Know the signs of abuse to protect children from further harm. • React Responsibly – Understand how to respond to risky behaviors and suspicions or reports of sexual abuse The training is also available online at $10 per person. There is a discount code that allows participants to take the training at no charge through an initiative called Flip the Switch. Darkness to Light states that the outcomes of the online training are similar to the in-person training. The benefit of in-person training is that all participants for a organization experience the training together and have the benefit of group discussion lead by an Authorized Facilitator.
Training Information	To provide Stewards of Children training, the presenter must attend a one-day Facilitator Workshop provided by Darkness to Light, thereby becoming an Authorized Facilitator. Cost of the Facilitator Workshop is $450 per person, payable to Darkness to Light.

	The National Children’s Advocacy Center, through an agreement with Darkness to Light, offers Facilitator Workshops several times per year in Huntsville. The dates, and perhaps locations, of these Facilitator Workshops could be coordinated with Alabama Department of Child Abuse and Neglect Prevention to coincide with the grant calendar so that Authorized Facilitators are trained at the beginning of the grant year.
Certification Required	Must be an Authorized Facilitator trained by Darkness to Light. See Training Information above.

Name	Devereux Institute’s: Your Journey Together
Program Type	Parent Education
Target Audience	YJT is designed for families with young children – infants, toddlers, preschoolers – many of the concepts apply to families with children of all ages.
Credentials	The study was written and conducted in collaboration with Dr. Ana Leon of the University of Central Florida. The one-year study was designed to collect data from parents of children ages birth through five years who were referred to participating agencies for home-based services by the Division of Children and Families.
Curriculum Summary	Your Journey Together (YJT) is a strength-based curriculum designed to promote the social and emotional well-being and resilience of vulnerable children and their families. The YJT curriculum focuses on empowering parents to promote safe, trusting and healing environments – all key elements of a trauma-sensitive program. While YJT is designed for families with young children – infants, toddlers, preschoolers – many of the concepts apply to families with children of all ages. The goal of YJT is to provide parents and guardians with the knowledge and skills that promote resilience and help family members better cope with life’s challenges and reach their full potential. Your Journey Together shows parents how to use ordinary, everyday routines, activities and interactions as resilience-building opportunities. Trauma Sensitive Your Journey Together is designed to be delivered with sensitivity to the prevalence of trauma in the lives of vulnerable children and families. The YJT curriculum was developed to reflect the six key principles of a trauma-informed approach promulgated by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (2014): safety; trustworthiness; peer support; collaboration; empowerment, and cultural, historical and gender issues. See this alignment tool for more information on how these principles are incorporated into the YJT curriculum.

Name	Healthy Families America
Program Type	Evidence-based
Target Audience	Adults/Families
Credentials	Research-based; “Moreover, a considerable amount of research has been conducted on our model—nearly 20 publications document independent, randomized control trials that demonstrate positive outcomes for HFA families compared to control groups not receiving HFA services.”
Curriculum Summary	HFA is designed for parents facing life stresses such as single parenthood, low income, childhood history of abuse and other adverse child experiences, and current or previous issues related to substance abuse, mental health issues, and/or domestic violence. Families are typically enrolled prenatally or within three months of birth, and for HFA sites approved to use the model’s child welfare protocols, up to age twenty-four months. Once enrolled, services are offered to families for a minimum of three years. To learn more about HFA, please visit healthyfamiliesamerica.org .
Training Information	Core training requirements for direct service staff: Our comprehensive accreditation and training program is designed to ensure affiliates implement the HFA model to fidelity, guaranteeing that families receive quality care. Accessing in-person training from our certified trainers and Healthy Families America (HFA) national office staff is one of the great benefits of being an affiliate. All Staff must receive thorough orientation, as well as what we call core training. There are two core trainings: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Foundations for Family Support (FFS) • Parent Survey for Community Outreach (PSCO) FFS is required for family support specialists (those who conduct home visits). PSCO is required for family resource specialists (those who conduct the initial assessment/parent surveys) with families. These are four-day in-person trainings and can only be administered by HFA certified trainers. Direct service staff must receive these trainings within six months of hire. Core training requirements for supervisors and program managers: All supervisors and program managers need BOTH Parent Survey for Community Outreach (PSCO) and Foundations for Family Support (FFS) core trainings. Additionally: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Supervisors and program managers must stay for one extra day of core training (following both PSCO and FFS). This is referred to as “fifth day” training, as it typically occurs on the Friday after trainees have spent Monday–Thursday in core training. Supervisors need to obtain this training within 6 months after being hired. Program managers need this training within the first 18 months of employment. • Program managers must also attend Implementation Training (within their first 18 months of being on the job).

Name	Parenting Now/ used with Small Wonders Program
Program Type	Home Visitation Program
Target Audience	Parents with special needs children or medically fragile children
Credentials	Parenting Now! is a primary research-based curriculum.
Curriculum Summary	Parenting Now! developed by SAAVSUS is research-based and derived from the nationally recognized, evidence-based curriculum Make Parenting A Pleasure®. The Parenting Now! curriculum is customized for parents with children ages 0-6, with added emphasis on child development and parenting skills such as emotion coaching and parental values. Provided through seven sessions, Parenting Now! targets key parenting concepts: parental values, stress management and realistic expectations, preventative discipline tools, communication, discipline, effective responses to challenging behaviors, and understanding children's feelings. Parenting Now! is designed by parenting educators for parenting educators. The curriculum's facilitated approach to parent education helps parents achieve their goals for their families and respects the diversity of those goals. The Small Wonders Program also utilizes the Parent Stress Index, PSI, which is a researched, standardized measurement and assessment instrument. The PSI assesses the total stress index for a parent while identifying specific areas of individualized stress triggers. Stress that is derived from the parent's interaction with their special needs child and stress that is likely to result from the child's behavioral characteristics are identified to assist the Small Wonders Home Visitor and the parent(s) in pinpointing individualized areas of need. PSI results allow for greater focus on specific topics in the Parenting Now! curriculum, providing an individualized approach for each family. The PSI is used during pre and post-services, providing both reassurance for the parents that positive change is occurring and providing measurable program efficacy data. The Parenting Stress Index helps identify stressful aspects of parent-child interaction This tool is used for screening and is a triage measurement for evaluating the parenting system and identifying issues that may lead to problems in the child's or parent's behavior. Focuses on three major domains of stress: child characteristics, parent characteristics and situational/demographic life stress.

Name	Protective Factors (Strengthening Families)
Program Type	Parent Education and Support
Target Audience	Administrators, Directors, Professionals, Parents

Credentials	Research-informed approach to increase family strengths, enhance child development, and reduce the likelihood of child abuse and neglect.
Curriculum Summary	The Strengthening Families Approach and Protective Factors Framework™ describes five protective factors which research suggests mitigate the effect of exposure to risk factors and promote healthy family and child development and well-being, specifically: parental resilience, social connections, knowledge of parenting and child development, social and emotional competence of children, and concrete support in times of need. Although the Strengthening Families approach is most often implemented in contexts that serve children and families whose circumstances increase the likelihood of poor outcomes, the five protective factors are regarded as essential to help keep all families strong. This chapter will describe the research behind the five protective factors and recommendations for application in child- and parent-serving programs.
Training Information	The curriculum consists of seven courses, each designed to be about 2 hours in length. The introductory course provides an overview, followed by each of the five protective factors and ending with a review and reflection course that helps participants move from knowledge to action. The introductory course can serve as a brief, stand-alone Strengthening Families™ 101 training. The Five Protective Factors Courses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Purpose and learning objectives for each course • Definition and explanation of the protective factor • Definition and explanation of program strategy (or strategies) and everyday actions • Quizzes, activities and reflective questions • Real-life parent stories, documenting the power of building protective factors • Engaging mix of written text, video and audio examples • Individualized Action Plan (IAP) work • A direct link in the Websites and Resources section to the Strengthening Families™ Self-Assessment for that protective factor

Name	Tuning in to Kids
Program Type	Parenting Education and Support

Target Audience	Parents
Credentials	Developed by Dr Sophie Havighurst and Ann Harley in Melbourne, Australia, and has been evaluated in multiple randomized controlled trials that have shown the program leads to positive outcomes including improving parenting, parent-child relationships and children's emotional competence and behavior. The program has been particularly effective with children with clinical-level emotional and behavioral difficulties
Curriculum Summary	Tuning in to Kids is an evidence-based parenting program that focuses on the emotional connection between parents and children. In particular, the program teaches parents skills in emotion coaching, which is to recognize, understand and respond to children's emotions in an accepting, supportive way. This approach helps the child to understand and manage their emotions. Other collaborations: Tuning in to Teens™, Dads Tuning in to Kids™, and Tuning in to Toddlers™. Tuning in to Teens™ is a modification of the Tuning in to Kids program for parents of adolescents. The program provides parents with a greater understanding of their teen's emotional experiences while teaching specific skills that can assist in being supportive, empathic and staying connected with the young person. The program has been evaluated in a randomized controlled trial of the program with parents of pre-adolescents and is currently being evaluated with parents of secondary school aged children and with caretakers of adolescents in out-of-home care. Dads Tuning in to Kids™ is a modification of the Tuning in to Kids program intended specifically for fathers. It includes some additional content of relevance to fathers, while still focusing on the core skills of emotion coaching and building a strong father-child connection. This version of the program has been successfully piloted, and a randomized controlled trial with fathers of pre-school children is nearing completion.

Name	Understanding Dad
Program Type	Parent Education & Support; Fatherhood Initiative
Target Audience	Mothers
Credentials	Evidence-based
Curriculum Summary	Understanding Dad™ is a unique program that helps mothers improve the relationships they have with fathers, for the benefit of their children. This program helps mothers better understand the importance of involving dad in their children's lives, and how to better communicate with the father(s) of their child(ren). Oftentimes, the mothers' gatekeeping behavior that can prevent or reduce fathers' access to their children - when fathers' involvement in their children's lives would actually benefit their children. This program encourages self-awareness and helps moms improve the communications skills they need to improve their relationships with the fathers of their children. Understanding Dad™ raises mothers' awareness about the importance of father involvement in the lives of their children. It helps mothers to reflect on how their own developmental histories have and continue to influence the relationships with the fathers of their children. It also teaches mothers communication skills to improve the partnership between them and the fathers of their children in raising their children (e.g. co-parenting when mothers and fathers are no longer together).
